World-Famous PATENTED ROSES

Pictured here are some of the choicest Roses offered to growers today. They are all among the newer varieties as compared to those on the other side of the folder. Their originators devoted many years of hybridizing and testing in order to produce these Roses, and they are representative of the skill of modern hybridizers. You will see them described and discussed in magazines everywhere today.

We have chosen a good range of color, and cluster-flowered Floribundas as well as Hybrid

Teas, to offer here. Our methods of growing the plants assure you of good root systems and healthy, sturdy bushes. While the prices of these patented Roses are higher than those of older varieties, the thrill you will get from seeing these beauties grow and bloom will more than compensate for the price.

Be sure to include some of these newer Roses in your order.
